

Training, communication, and strategic communications

Division learning, internal and external communication, and plain-language practice.

Equity entry points

- Plain language and accessible documents by default
- Language access in every channel
- Learning that is voluntary and private

Connected areas of work

- Accessibility, language access, and inclusive operations
- Workplace culture, intercultural practice, and trust